Intellectual Data Property Rights

- Upon purchase, NASA has the right to distribute to researchers affiliated with the Earth Sciences Enterprise through grants or other formal mechanisms, and to researchers in the international community with whom NASA has data exchange arrangements. Live data will be distributed internationally with the same conditions and restrictions as domestic distribution under this contract.
- NASA will not commercially exploit property in which the government holds a license, nor will it harm the legitimate business interests of AstroVision by freely distributing data to entities who are not users under this agreement, and who would otherwise buy from AstroVision, Inc.
- ESE data products derived from purchased data sets will have no restrictions on access by and distribution to the science community outside the ESE program as long as such distribution is accomplished at least 72 hours after reception.
- With prior approval from Astrovision, NASA CRSP may use purchased data sets in applications demonstrations with CRSP partners which have contracts or formal agreements with CRSP.
